The April Foreword

Welcome to the April edition of your Community Newsletter! I write this piece minutes after returning home from a successful "Spring Trim" of Crutches Wood. It was great to see such an enthusiastic bunch of volunteers drag themselves out of bed early on a Sunday morning to lend a hand in keeping their local environment healthy and safe (the promise of a sausage sandwich made by Pat Holdsworth clearly did the trick). The aim was to make safe fallen/dead branches, to keep the holly off the ground, and trim back eye-level overhanging branches along the pathways; many hands made light work and we got through what we needed to get done by mid morning. A huge thanks to all involved (you know who you are!).

Don"t forget that April kicks off our musical calendar with Esther Cavett & Ian Ritchie starring in a Village Concert on April 6th, and a new class in the Village Hall, Singability, starting on Wednesday April 13th! I am sure this new weekly fixture will prove to be very popular, as it's a great opportunity for those of you who have always wanted to develop your singing voice, in a relaxed, nurturing atmosphere where your talents will be able to shine. The first one is totally free, so give it a try!

Jordans Quaker Meeting House

This historic building at the heart of Jordans contains a fascinating exhibition and library, and is open to visitors from Tuesday to Sunday 2pm to 5pm, and on Bank Holiday Mondays, from 1st March to 31st October, and at other times by prior appointment. Do you like to sing? Then come along for the open evening of our brand new class, completely free!

There will be snacks and drinks, lots of information about joining our class, and of course, a taster of what we do best!

We believe that singing should be all-inclusive, and that everyone should have an opportunity to find their voice!

Whether you are a complete beginner or have lots of experience, come down and find out what singing in a group can do for you!

If you would like more information, please email kat@singability.co.uk, or call 07843 493583.

The Re-Opening of the Quaker Meeting House

The Quaker Meeting House, which dates back to 1688, suffered a terrible fire in the early 2000s, and was re-opened in 2008 after considerable restoration work was carried out. This video documents the re-opening of this historic building at the heart of Jordans. Click the image above to watch the film.

Autism - A Marathon Challenge by Lucinda Borer

Last Mothering Sunday I ran past restaurants crammed with families and it got me thinking how training for a Marathon is easier than looking after a severely autistic child. I was reminded that not only was I running to help children like my son reach their potential by helping them get the right support and education. BUT I was running to give other MOTHERS a reason to carry on by giving them HOPE.

The majority of mums of complex autistic children are single mums* who often cannot leave the house because of their children, let alone go into a restaurant, and will never experience an outing on Mother's Day or any of the stuff you take for granted. (*It is estimated by NAS that 80% of partnerships will break down).

In case you didn't realise, and excuse me if you

Jordans School Headmistress

Mrs Hannah Bancroft has been appointed as Headteacher of Jordans School, having carried out the role of Acting Headmistress for the past few months.

An outstanding professional, Mrs Bancroft always puts the children at the heart of all her decisions. The School and its Governors are extremely pleased to have her, and I am sure that you will all join them in congratulating on this wonderful news.

Volunteers Needed for Rotary Club RNLI Lifeboat Collection

do, looking after a severely, complex child with autism is no quirky 'Dog in the Night Time' stuff. Motherhood of a severely, complex autistic child is not only an achievement of sheer physical and mental strength, it is an achievement of the heart. Without heart a mum wouldn't do it and in many cases worn down over time, without help, no longer can. A daily struggle that has been officially compared to the same level of stress that combat soldiers experience on the battlefield (please Google it's there).

I feel to brush this under the carpet and to not talk about this openly does a tremendous disservice to all the mums struggling for support. Some of whom, confined to their homes with their children for years, wracked with desperation and lack of sleep (often autistic children don't sleep at night) have jumped off bridges and taken their poor children with them.

I have struggled and fought the authorities for the right support to look after my son for 16 years. A few years ago it had got to the stage where I wasn't actually able to leave the house to do anything because I couldn't keep him or his poor siblings safe out of it. My son was in a very bad place and his siblings and I were confined to the house for at least a year and a half. I spent all of my time trying to keep them alive.

Struggling to keep all of them alive might sound overly dramatic, but, to give you one small example If our strong 6ft 2 boy with the mind of a two year old, decided to run into the middle of the road and touch the white lines, he would do so and I couldn't stop him. If he decided he wanted to go the other way on the motorway he would climb through into the front and take the wheel whilst his siblings sat screaming on the back seat. Yes, that happened, and, even though the right people knew that was happening, I didn't actually get any help until an accident happened in our house and it catapulted us onto their radar. Luckily no-one died and as a result my son is at the most amazing residential school now.

When you have seen a child like mine, so unhappy and damaged by lack of support, it would make you run forever to help them or even run away – many parents can't stand it any more and if the right help and support doesn't get to The time has come to collect for the RNLI Lifeboats, as the charity is now called. The week we have been allocated to collect countrywide is Sunday 17th - Saturday 23rd April 2016.

Please could I ask for some help in covering Jordans for this very worthy cause and ask you to contact me Jenny Owen on 01494 677571 (answering machine available) or 07707 386415 if you can cover an area for me.

Jordans and District Rotary Club Seniors Lunch

Jordans and District Rotary Club will be holding an afternoon tea with entertainment on Wednesday 15th June 2016 in the Jordans Village Hall from 3pm till 5pm and should like to invite as many senior citizens over 70 as would like to come. Transport to and from the venue will be available. There is no cost for the attendees.

Please could they let Mrs Jenny Owen from Seer Green know of their interest on the following contact number 01494 677571 (an answering machine is available to take messages) them in time often do. The majority of the complex children at my son's school have no parents any longer and are in Care.

The Fred Foundation was founded to help families fight on to get the right support and education their children sorely need and so give them HOPE . A LIFE WITHOUT HOPE CAN DRAIN THE STRONGEST SOUL.

http://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/fredfoundation If you want to know more about what the charity does to support families to fight on please go to www.thefredfoundation.org The section Faces of Autism and A Day in the Life diary will tell you everything.

Anna-Brita Snodin

Dear Friends,

For your information, if you do not know it already, Anna-Brita Snodin died on 15 March 2016.

Her funeral will be held at 10.45am on Wednesday 6th April 2016, in the Milton Chapel, Chiltern Crematorium, Whielden Lane, Amersham, HP7 0ND. It will be a Swedish Service.

At 12 Noon, refreshments will be offered in the Jordans Quaker Meeting House, Welders Lane, Jordans, Beaconsfield, HP9 2SN. To help with catering numbers, please let Alex Wildwood on 01494876594 know if you plan to attend.

In friendship, John Smithson

Nick Bell

The Village lost a true star in March when Nick Bell passed away. He is survived by wife Georgina and daughter Keely. Over 400 people attended his funeral, and packed out The Cricketers for his wake. Even in the short time I knew him, it was obvious that he was a very kind, talented, and fun loving gentleman, and of course a skilled musician most famous for his time on the road with Deep Purple. I know we will all miss him. Chris Jenkins
