TEMPORARY VILLAGE HALL

Built by workers in their spare time. Opened 11th October, 1919

Speaker's Corner

The JVL Management Committee had its regular monthly meeting on Friday 25th September but started early to allow for a presentation from the Village Hall Committee in preparation for the open meeting to be held on Tuesday 6th October to discuss its future. A considerable amount of work has been done reviewing options for the Hall including commissioning architects to prepare illustrative drawings of what a new hall could look like. Without pre-empting the discussions next week, the Management Committee felt that a new redeveloped village hall would serve our community best and we hope to see as many people as possible come to the meeting next week. There will be a presentation of the work done so far, an opportunity to ask questions and the chance to give your views on the options we face.

The Committee also discussed ways in which interested parties could present their points of view on village matters directly to the regular JVL meeting. It was agreed that for a trial period over the next three monthly meetings, a 15 minute slot would be reserved at the beginning of each meeting for such presentations. Interested residents should notify the Secretary in advance of their desire to present to the meeting and it should be noted that any necessary resulting discussion or decision would be taken in private. At the end of the trial period, we will review how well it worked and decide whether to continue, amend, or end the process.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Paul Wilson,
Chairman, Jordans Village Ltd Management Committee

Bonfire Night

The Jolly Quaker - Opening Night

For those who weren't able to be there - and without blowing our own trumpets too much - it is safe to say that the inaugural pub night was a storming success! The Hall was packed to overflowing with a great variety of people, there was a terrific atmosphere and takings of over £800 all go toward keeping our Village Shop running.

It had been impossible to predict the beer consumption but it exceeded all expectations – what a thirsty lot we are! After all three draught barrels were demolished, Publican Chris Waymouth carried on serving up bottled ales and nobody went home disappointed.

Huge thanks go out to the band of helpers, especially Lorraine Bristow who worked tirelessly from start to finish; Graham Short for his invaluable work throughout with the glasses (looking great in his Marigolds); Francesca Bagneris who served throughout the evening and helped with the clearing up, Barry Bristow for his help with setting up and shutting down, Emma Holdsworth for her assistance with the supplies and setting up too, along with Andy, and everybody else who chipped in.

The main lesson learned is that we need more volunteers in order to share the load, and need to order more beer next time! Judging from the compliments received, we don't think there's much we need to change, but do pass on your thoughts & suggestions, and offers to assist next time to Chris Waymouth on 01494 874575 or via email: c.waymouth@btinternet.com.

Saturday 7th November

Now is the time to trim your hedges, as bonfire night is approaching! Bring them up to the village green in time for the event and add them to the stack.

Tracing the Family Tree

I received a visit to the Estate Office from Annette Linton and her sister Claire one day in June, as they were trying to trace their family (Taylor, Sedgewick, & Bannatyne) who had lived in Jordans from the 1920s until the early 1970s.

*As a librarian at Canterbury Christ Church University, Annette's patient approach would help anyone who has been inspired to trace their family by the popular series Who Do You Think You Are? and I thought it was worth publishing her notes so that you can see how she did it, but also to call on our readers to help her answer some remaining questions. Annette tells the story from here:*

Roll on Fri 6th November!

Chris Waymouth, the Jolly Publican!

The long queue at the bar...

"Hurry up Sylvia, before they run out of beer!!"

The starting point in researching our family was triggered by a phone conversation between my sister and I while planning our Mum's 80th birthday. Although we were born in Northern Ireland, our family history is very much London & Scotland based, & we grew up with family stories, and names of family members floating around within them.

However, during the birthday planning and all the reminiscences that were triggered, we began to realise there were many names in our family that we had no idea as to how they fitted into our family tree and what their relationship was to us. What was more worrying was the fact that many of our elderly relatives who would know the background were passing on, risking the loss of vital information forever unless efforts were made to record and research our family history.

I have been carrying out the bulk of the research through the use of online tools such as Ancestry, Findmypast, the Mormon's Family Search and free indexes such as FreeBMD as well as visiting as required archives to locate documents that are not/are unlikely to be digitised.

Two happy customers!

Jordans Family Sports Day

The Tenant Members' Committee put on another superb Family Sports Day on Saturday 12th September, and enjoyed great weather with loads of events for everyone! Winners in each age group are as follows:

- 12 Years: Herbie Smith

Cup Winners names to follow. Thanks to all the TMC members and

*Alice Evelyn "Jinny" Taylor
circa 1949*

One story that has stuck with both of us relate to our grandmother's cousins (three sisters) who all ended up living in Jordans Village. Their names were Ethel Ballantyne (nee Taylor), Alice Evelyn Taylor and Caroline Hilda Sedgwick (nee Taylor). The story is perhaps more potent to my sister, Claire because unlike me she actually visited the village as a child and has memories of meeting two of the sisters and playing on the Green. It has long been a desire for both of us to visit the village and locate the house that two of our Gran's cousin's lived in - a house known as Greenlaw.

The trigger for our trip was our visit to the Wimbledon tennis tournament, so we planned to visit the village but ahead of the trip, I had become uneasy about just turning up and expecting to find the property; at this stage we had no idea on which street that the property was located and although Jordans is a compact village, any visit would have been time limited due to the travel distances involved.

volunteers who helped to make this annual event such an enjoyable one!

Jordans Village Concert

Following up on the fabulous Cello Concert that took place on Sunday 20th September (and thanks to Esther Cavett & Alison Moncrieff-Kelly for putting on such an amazing performance!) the next Jordans Village Concert will be on Sunday 15th November at 3 pm in Jordans Village Hall.

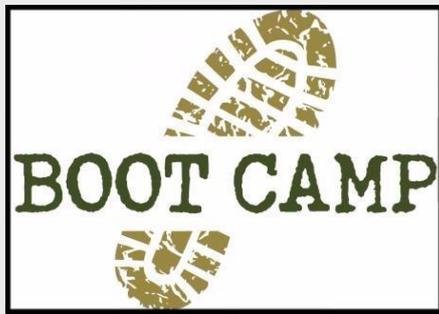

Ahead of our trip I contacted the Centre For Buckinghamshire Studies in Aylesbury to see if they had any records that might shed some light on the location. One of the archivists carried out a quick check of the 1964 electoral register and confirmed that Alice was listed as living in a house called Greenlaw on Seer Green Lane.

Unfortunately in the 1960s not all electoral registers listed voters in street and house number order. In large towns, yes, but in the case of the 1964 Register of Electors for Jordans, the register was in alphabetical order. I travelled to Aylesbury to carry out further research largely by checking electoral registers and also the General and Special Rates Book 1951-52. The check of electoral registers indicated that the house name 'Greenlaw' ceased after the death in 1964 of Alice Taylor. A further check was carried out of the General and Special Rates Book which listed Alice living in Greenlaw. One observation of this document was that it listed properties by street and seemingly what is today regarded as their house number order. By cross referencing this order to a map of the village dating from the early 1970s, it looked as if number 5 The Green was indeed the property formerly known as Greenlaw. While not conclusive evidence, it was too close to dismiss and indeed the final proof emerged after our visit to The Estate Office where we found a map of the village dated 1958 which clearly identified Greenlaw as the former name of 5 The Green.

From my research at the Centre for Buckinghamshire Studies and checking numerous electoral registers, the following pattern emerged: the Taylor family all originated from London and the first members to move to Jordans were Alice Evelyn Taylor and her father Charles Taylor with his second wife, Alice Emily Taylor whom he married after the death of

This time local musicians will play for us, and we already have some piano, cello and violin music on the programme.

If any more local musicians would like to perform during the concert, they will be very welcome – please contact Bob Hall on 873186 or email r@rkhall.com. As usual, everyone will be welcome, entry is free, and refreshments will be served at the end of the programme.

Boot Camp!

Jules Li of Long Dene House is arranging a 6-week keep fit/get fit Boot Camp taught by her favourite box-a-cise instructor. Planned to start at the end of October, Boot Camp is open to both men and women, over 6 consecutive Tuesdays from 8 to 9pm on the following dates: 27/10; 3/11; 10/11; 17/11; 24/11; 1/12

The course will cost £7.50 per person, although the cost will be slightly less if there are more people to split the cost of renting the Village Hall; fees will be charged up front, and are non-refundable.

If it's not raining, the class can take place outside and make use of the Village Green, although if attendees prefer some privacy while training then the backyard of Long Dene in his first wife. The date of their move to Jordans was around 1923 as their names first appear in the Chalfont St Giles electoral register but their address in the village is unknown as the register just lists them as living in Jordans Village. I have no idea as to the trigger for the move although it could possibly be related to Charles Taylor and his retirement. Alice Evelyn was registered as a teacher in 1916 so presumably continued teaching.

In 1927 or thereabouts, Alice's older sister and her husband moved to the village as they are now appearing in the 1927 Chalfont St Giles electoral register. Their names were John Brown Ballantyne and his wife Ethel. Their actual address in the village is unknown as they are recorded as living in Jordans Village; it is only in later registers (1930s onwards) that addresses within the Village are identified. The younger sister Caroline Hilda Sedgwick does not appear to have moved to the village until 1959 which is when she first appears in electoral registers.

Flower & Produce Show

This year's Flower & Produce Show was held on Sunday 20th September at Jordans School, and attracted a fantastic array of entries which were admired by all who attended.

Thanks to everyone that entered, and also our thanks to the judges for their time, expertise, and wise words - especially Mrs Norma Desmond-Mawby and Mr Coles.

the Ballantynes. They lived here from 1927 until the mid-1950s when they moved to Beaconsfield.

Woodlands Cottage is associated with Charles Taylor and his second wife Alice Emily, and daughter Alice Evelyn Taylor. Charles Taylor died in 1932 and electoral registers indicate that the two Alice's lived at this address immediately after his death. However there is a mystery as neither appear in the 1935 and 1936 electoral registers. Alice Evelyn reappears in the 1938 register but this time living in Greenlaw. Where did they go in the interim?

Greenlaw (now known as 5 The Green) is the property name that is most featured in our family history memories. Apart from Claire visiting the property as a child, there are stories of our mother visiting the Village during the war as a relief from the blitz.

Granfers, Jordans Lane is associated with Caroline Hilda Sedgwick and her companion Frederick Pride (known as Taffy). They moved from Greenlaw after the death of her sister Alice Evelyn but appear to have only lived there for a short period as they moved to the final address in the family history which is....

15 Puers Field. Taffy died in 1970 with this cited as his last address. Caroline Hilda died in 1972. According to the electoral register this was her last address but her death certificate cites her last address as Alde House, Penn which I suspect was/is a care home.

There are a couple of mysteries that remain unresolved -

1. What happened to Alice Evelyn in the period 1935-1937? She no longer appears on the electoral register for the village but reappears in 1938 now living in Greenlaw.
2. There is a story that Charles Taylor built a property in the village. Is there any truth to this?
3. The Ballantyne family had children - three sons. The electoral registers indicate that two of them at some stage lived in the village. Are there any recollections of this family?

If anyone can help with these three questions, please contact the Estate Office on 01494 875177 or estateoffice@jordansvillage.co.uk

Getting Horses & Cyclists off the Road by Susie Bicknell

Living here in the Chilterns, you can't fail to notice the large number of horse riders on the roads. Recent figures reveal that many of you reading this will have at least one member of the household associated with horses; the number actually riding has doubled in the last 10 years to well over 4 million in the UK. Horse riding is clearly on the increase as a leisure activity.

But finding safe routes to enjoy isn't easy, but Hodgemoor Wood on the other side of Seer Green from Jordans is the one safe haven where the two to three hundred local riders can get off the roads. Since 2000, the Hodgemoor Riding Association has raised over £85,000 to surface riding trails in the woods, and as a result, horse riders, cyclists, and walkers alike no longer have to wade through deep mud in some sections. The trail maintenance is an ongoing process, particularly after wet winters, so fund-raising from members' subscriptions and events is crucial.

From the Village Archives:
Former Names of Properties in Jordans

by Chris Jenkins

Just before he retired, Colin Brown found some boxes of drawings, plans, and maps in the loft of the Estate Office, and since then, together with fount of knowledge Nigel Morgan, I have catalogued all the drawings as the first step in the creation of an archive of historical material.

During the process, we have logged the former names of properties around the village. Was your house an original design by Fred Rowntree? What was your house called in the past? Take a look at the list below, and see if your house had a different name in the past...those not listed have always had the same name, many of which were named after the fields upon which Jordans was created, such as Long Redding, & Further Pegs. Rowntree designs that were not designated a letter code include: Farleigh, Woodend, Long Redding. Calverts Cross, Walden, The Croft, Woning, St. Christophers, Travellers Joy, Chelsey Cottage, Crutches Dell, and Maxfield Cottage.

£15,000 worth of trail repair was just carried out in July this year.

Horse riders are not only the only ones that need to get off the roads: cyclists do too. As you may have noticed, there are more and more cyclists of all ages taking to the roads, and they also benefit from the surfacing done by the Riding Association in Hodgemoor Woods. However, both cyclists and horse riders have to get to Hodgemoor which means going on our increasingly busy local roads. Horse riders and cyclists realise how frustrating it is for motorists to be stuck behind them on twisty, narrow roads, and the Riding Association is always working on trying to improve access to the woods for both riders and cyclists to avoid major roads. This involves working with Bucks County Council and landowners to create new bridleways, or upgrading existing public footpaths to bridleways. A third possibility is creating a permissive riding trail (a right-of-way granted by a landowner but not an official council right-of-way). This can be rescinded at the owners' discretion. All three alternatives can be a difficult process involving many interested parties.

For horse riders and cyclists coming from the south, there is one notoriously dangerous road: Twitchells Lane leading up from Jordans to Butler's Cross. There have already been several near-misses and one accident involving horse riders. If an off-road route could be found for both riders and cyclists to avoid this potential death-trap, it would be good news for all locals.

Charity Bike Ride 2015

by Ali Cork

The charity bike ride took place on Sunday 4th October, and has raised an amazing £360 for the Village Store! £344 came from cyclists and a donation of £16 was made for cakes left over. I am so pleased and hope you all are too!

Massive thanks to Lorraine Bristow for manning the hall - right up until 1.30 - it was so good of you and of course thanks to Pat Holdsworth too. Thank you to you Graham for taking over until the end and also of course to Sally Wilson and Georgina Wright for making such delicious brownies/flap jacks and rocky road. What a supportive team - you are all stars !

It was a brilliant day - daughters Kate, Hannah, and I really enjoyed our 35 miles - and as for the weather..how lucky we were. We're looking forward to seeing Lorraine on a bicycle next year already!

Jordans Village Ltd News

JVL launched a new website in September, www.jordansvillage.co.uk which is full of information about our Village, including News, Events, History, Image Gallery, Links to organisations and groups you can get involved with in and around the Village, as well as information about Accommodation and Transport for those visiting us. The Estate Office also has a new email address: estateoffice@jordansvillage.co.uk so if there is an event that you'd like to advertise through our website, or if you simply need to contact us, please use this one from now on.

Following on from our recent installation of new benches, including the one built from parts donated by former Estate Manager Hubert Douglass shown below, we received the great news that Chalfont St Giles Parish Council has agreed in principle to assist us with further efforts to spruce up the benches around the Green. More news on that next month.
